

BONE BUILDERS CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

The Bone Builders Program depends upon a climate of mutual caring and trust. To promote trust between the leader's and the participants we must make proper use of the personal information we are given, as well as being careful not to needlessly discuss the situations we see and hear within the program.

Information pertaining to participants or their respective families relative to medical conditions, financial or personal history is strictly confidential.

In order to maintain the trust required for the Bone Builders Program, we must strive to guard the dignity and privacy of everyone we serve. Personal information should not be shared unless necessary to better meet each person's needs or healthy participation of a member. In this case, the information will be shared only with a certified Bone Builders leader.
